"He that has no fools, knaves nor beggars in his family was begot by a flash of lightening."

Seventeenth-century English Clergyman
THOMAS FULLER

BLANKINCHIP FAMILY HISTORY

The branch directly in front of the Fellowship Baptist Church is known as Thomas Spring Branch, named for William Marion Thomas who lived beside it after the Civil War. The land between Thomas Spring Branch and Steep Hollow Branch was known as Blankinchip Fork. In the early 20th century there was evidence of a home by the remains of the chimney and house foundation and other posts. This was probably the home of William A. Blankinchip, with the land area being named for him. The woods road that can be accessed to the west of Thomas Spring Branch travels down Blankinchip Fork to Puppy Creek where there was a bridge early in this century, allowing easy access to Bethel Church, and the Brannan community, for the citizens of Fellowship.

BLANKINCHIP FAMILY HISTORY Blankenship 36

The branch directly in front of the Fellowship Baptist Church is known as Thomas Spring Branch, named for William Marion Thomas who lived beside it after the Civil War. The land between Thomas Spring Branch and Steep Hollow Branch was known as Blankinchip Fork. In the early 20th century there was evidence of a home by the remains of the chimney and house foundation and other posts. This was probably the home of William A. Blankinchip, with the land area being named for him. The woods road that can be accessed to the west of Thomas Spring Branch travels down Blankinchip Fork to Puppy Creek where there was a bridge early in this century, allowing easy access to Bethel Church, and the Brannan community, for the citizens of Fellowship.
